

When you give back, we move forward.

Being Wagner Strong means enabling the thousands of students who will become leaders, givers, healers, teachers ... the future pillars of Wagner College.

It means staying resilient during challenging times — and helping others do the same.

In past years, gifts to the Wagner Fund have allowed us to fund scholarships, provide campus maintenance and increase faculty support so that a Wagner education and experience remains world-class year after year.

Looking forward, your generosity will allow us to emerge from today's challenges — and all future challenges — stronger than we ever thought possible.

Wagner Strong means paving the way for future generations of students to do more than simply move forward, but to enhance and advance the entire Wagner community.

Please make your gift to the Wagner Fund by using the return envelope provided within this issue, or by visiting wagner.edu/give, if you have not already done so.

You are a vital part of this journey, and we thank you for your support.

Four Wagner Seahawks signed NFL contracts during the 2020 season, the most among Northeast Conference schools.

More than 22 million viewers watched Greg Senat '17 set a block to protect the game-winning field goal for the Dallas Cowboys against the New York Giants in Week 5. Senat appeared in 10 games for Dallas this season.

Cam Gill '20 played 11 regular-season games and three playoff games with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. At the time of publication, Gill is preparing for Super Bowl LV against the Kansas City Chiefs.

In his eighth NFL season, Julian Stanford '12 was a key contributor on special teams and also played linebacker for the Carolina Panthers.

Brooklyn native Chris Williams '21 signed with the Indianapolis Colts following an impressive training camp.

All four members of the 2019 Wagner football defensive front have professional contracts.

In addition to Williams and Gill in the NFL, Julian McCleod '19 (Toronto Argonauts) and Tevaughn Grant '20 (Edmonton Football Team) signed with Canadian Football League

Still Making a Difference

With the meaningful support of our alumni and friends, a true difference was made in the lives of our students this year. In response to the pandemic, the college expanded the Make a Difference Fund. Gifts to this fund provide emergency tuition assistance and temporary financial support to Wagner students in need, especially to those navigating the unprecedented challenges of Covid-19.

Day of Caring

In further support of the Make a Difference Fund, Wagner recognized its own “Day of Caring” event on May 5. A collective matching gift challenge totaling $100,000 was pledged from members of the trustee community, which motivated the rest of our alumni and friends to meet the challenge with additional gifts throughout the day. As a result, a total of $256,920 was raised from 225 people in only 24 hours, creating a true difference for our students in need.

$218,200

To date, a total of $218,200 has been granted to 80 Wagner students in need of emergency financial assistance from the Make a Difference Fund. This success would not have been possible without the ongoing support of our alumni and friends.
